* JENNIFER. So my seventeen-book series is called The Briar's Notch Mysteries, which takes place in the picturesque town of Briar's Notch, Vermont, population two hundred. Imagine there are green mountains, and dairy cattle, and old hippies, and our hero, Lucy Porter, who owns a local cupcake shop. And in each book there is a mystery. Spoiler alert: it's murder. So much murder.

* JENNIFER. Strangers move in sometimes. And they get killed. It's so fun. I love writing do you guys love writing it's my special quiet time. I don't actually get a lot of quiet time—I have three boys—and a husband and they need me constantly, like so much, all the time. Just gaping black holes of need. I love them so much but they just take and they take and they take and sometimes MAMA BEAR NEEDS HER QUIET TIME!

She takes a breath.
